

Remarks::

This invention presents a game, where the symbolism of the playing field, is used much more extensively, than any other sport. This game presents a game where three team operation is a feature. This feature, is not presented by any other team sport presently practiced in our society today, and this, may cause anyone reading this description of the invention, to have many questions, even when it is explained in detail by the inventor. I feel there is no one better qualify to narrate the features, and novelty of this invention, than the person who invented the design of the playing field, adding the functions, and rules which participants will use to display the workings of this invention. It's for this reason that I have chosen to prepare this documentation myself. I have consulted with various persons whom offer assistance in the field of patent application filing. Upon my consultation with them, and my own investigation of other patent applications; I have decided, that I would like to continued to provide the information required to obtain the patent for my invention. My suggestion to the examiner is, to look carefully at the information, and pictures submitted on this invention to understand the workings of this new game. This game has been played, and tested for one year with children 9yrs of age, and older. They understood the court design, rules, formations , and participant functions, along with the functions of scoring peripherals. and their use. They understood the strategies, and play development of this game. Certainly any adult whom will read the same book they did, and carefully study the material presented, should be able to understand the workings, and functions of this new sport. I have video tapes, and many pictures, I could provide, if this would help in the understanding of this invention. Regarding the claims, I have taken the information pertaining to my invention and used a format similar to the format previously accepted for an invention which pertained to a team sport for which a patent has been granted. One sentence would cover all claims. I claim to have created everything, which is a part of this game invention, features, functions, and designs. Regarding the generic word (Heatball) yes I do intend to use this new generic word as a Trademark for my invention.

Thank you for all information provided and assistance rendered in the examination of this application.

Sincerely,

Carlos Miró
